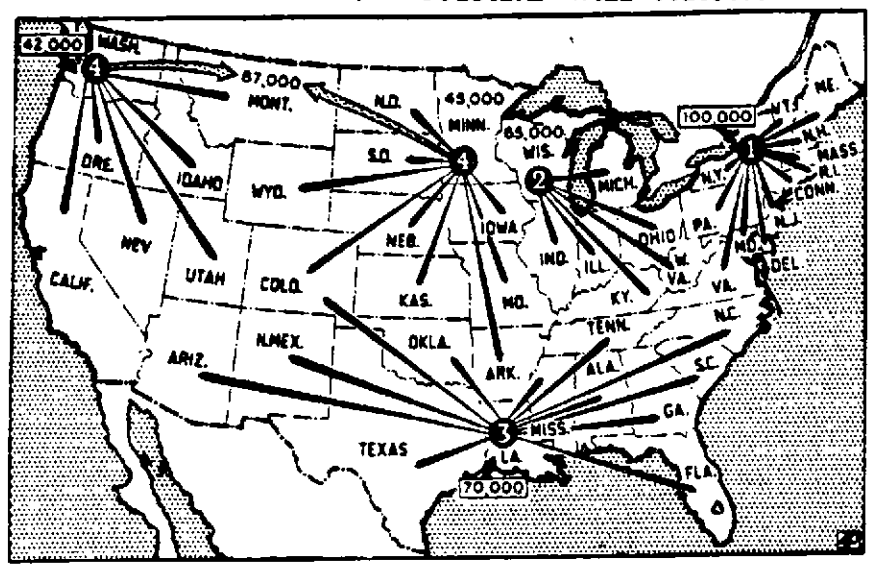
WHERE UNCLE SAM'S 301,000 SOLDIERS WILL PRACTICE WAR



This Associated Press map indicates the location of the forthcoming war games for 301,000 regular army, national guard and reserve troops this month. If the suggested year's training for the National Guard becomes effective many men will remain in training through the winter. The largest group will be the First Army in the east with 91,000 officers and men participating. The numbers indicate the four armies, with No. 4 split between Minnesota and the state of Washington, No. 2 in Wisconsin is where the 166th infantry, including the Marion company, will train.

KY. VOTERS AT POLLS TODAY

Quiet Primary Reaches Climax; Chandler Seeks Senate Nomination.

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 3—Capping a campaign of almost unprecedented dullness, Kentuckians began 10 hours of primary voting at 6 a. m. today to determine nominees for one United States senate seat and the state's nine posts in the house of representatives.

The incumbents — one Republican and nine Democrats, the latter including Senator A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who predicted a majority of 125,000 to 150,000 for himself — were expected by political observers to win the nominations.

The Democratic incumbents were credited with at least the tacit support of the state administration, and Gov Keen Johnson, who appointed Chandler to the senatorial post last year, said "we will contribute our utmost to give him a vote of confidence."

In the Republican senatorial primary, Bell county Attorney Walter B Smith of Pineville was favored over four opponents.

The most active candidate was a Democratic senatorial aspirant, former State Representative Charles P. Farnsley of Louisville, who in a one-week campaign by radio termed Chandler an "isolationist" and pledged himself to seek "immediate aid for the allies."

The other candidates for Democratic senatorial nomination were M. E. Gilbert of Paducah, Jack Howard of East Bernstadt, John J. Thobe of Covington, and Joseph G. Thornbury of Louisville.

In addition to Smith, those seeking the Republican senatorial nomination were C. B. Candler of Somerset, Roscoe Conkling Douglas of Saxton, Frank H (Yank) Scott of Louisville, and Silas A. Sullivan of Jamestown.

ALIEN SMUGGLING FEARED IN DETROIT

FBI Asked To Assist in Checking Entries.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Aug. 3 — Suspecting "alien smuggling," federal officers intensified their watch on the broad Detroit river today, which meant the busy border stream perhaps was keeping her reputation for mysterious goings-on

Many an intriguing tale is contained in the lore of the river—of escapes of Negro slaves from the south who fled across into Canada 80 years ago via the "underground railway," and of liquor-smuggling gunmen during prohibition days.

United States immigration officials sought the cooperation of the federal bureau of investigation today to trace possible smuggling of aliens over the river after flights to Canada from Europe's war.

Indicating a belief that organized efforts are being made to bring aliens into this country, John L. Zurbrick, district immigration director, said the arrival here of three Polish sailors who allegedly deserted their ship in Quebec had aroused his suspicions.

"I believe," he added, "that spies and Fifth columnists may be coming into the country by this route."

MISSING HORSE FOUND

Two Men Under Impression Each Had Bought It.

W. A Stewart of Brush Ridge has recovered his blind horse which disappeared shortly after he purchased it and left it in a field overnight, Sheriff's Deputy W. H Willis reported today.

The horse had been led away by another man who apparently was under the impression that he too had purchased the animal, Deputy Willis said. He took the horse to a field between Oak and Prospect streets near the Aronhalt lot where it was found by authorities.

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, Aug. 3—The British air force reported today explosions heard 30 miles away were set off yesterday in a series of mass raids on Italian oil depots and grounded planes in Eritrea.

An RAF communique said great billows of black smoke followed direct hits on oil tanks at Zula, Accico and the Asmara airdrome. All the attacking bombers were reported to have returned safely.

One Italian bomber was reported shot down and its crew captured in attacks on Kham El Gedaref, on the border between the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan and Eritrea.

FIRE KILLED ALL BUT 9 IN AKRON TRAIN CRASH

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Aug. 3—Coroner R. E. Amos reported today that only nine of the 43 persons losing their lives in the passenger coach-freight train crash and fire in Cuyahoga Falls Wednesday died from the force of the impact.

The coroner awaited the receipt of copies of the running orders handed to the engineman and conductor of the "doodlebug" at Hudson before returning a formal verdict fixing responsibility for the wreck.

POLICE CHECK BIZARRE PLOT

Youth Planned To Use Homemade Submarine in Extortion Attempt.

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 3—A bizarre $100,000 extortion and bombing plot — whose fantastic features included a scheme for a getaway in a tiny, homemade submarine — was broken up by police with the arrest of three young Milwaukee men.

Detective Lieutenant Arthur J. Burns said the men arrested were Walter Paul Minx, 23-year-old ornamental iron worker; his brother, Kurt Frederick Minx, 27, and Daniel Carter, 28.

Burns said that all three had admitted participation in the scheme and that the police would present their evidence to the district attorney today and ask for warrants.

Detective Lieutenant Eugene O'Gorman said that Walter Minx admitted after his arrest yesterday that he had made and planted a bomb which exploded harmlessly in a northside Sears Roebuck & Co. store last July 24.

Admits Writing Letters

He also admitted, O'Gorman reported, sending a series of letters to store Manager Rowland H. Davie demanding $100,000 under threat that "a bomb 200 times larger will go off at your southside store, besides your own life will be in danger."

The extortion plot, with angles outrivaling even most far-fetched detective - thriller fiction, was solved, O'Gorman said, after police found a scrap of ornamental iron wire, similar to that used in the trigger of the bomb, while sifting through a quarter-ton of scrap iron and filings in a shop formerly operated by Walter Minx, the youngest man.

O'Gorman summarized police findings and the young man's story as follows:

The submarine, a flimsy seven-foot long contrivance made of sheet metal, was discovered in the young man's basement. Light enough for two persons to lift onto a trailer, it was powered by two storage batteries and an automobile starter motor, and equipped with a crude conning tower, diving fins, and oxygen tank.

The youth said he intended to pick up the extortion money as it was dropped from an airplane out over Lake Michigan under a plan outlined in a letter to Davie,

BRITISH PUT JAP LEADERS UNDER ARREST

London Reports Discovery of Huge Spy Ring Throughout Empire.

By The Associated Press

Friction between Japan and Great Britain reached a new high point today in the rarest of the two most prominent Japanese business men in London, reports that others were held throughout the empire and rumors of the existence of big spy ring centered in London.

These reports, published in London without specific reference to the arrests, said the members of the ring had been allowed to operate in peace until they were involved hopelessly.

Authoritative circles denied reports that the arrests were in retaliation for the mass arrests of British subjects in Japan and Korea, nine of whom still are in custody, and described their timing as "pure coincidence" growing out of investigations which have been under way for some months under Britain's stringent defense of the realm regulations.

The British position was that in a widespread drive against enemy sympathizers and possible spies people of all nationalities have been detained, among them some Japanese.

To link such arrests with the incidents in Japan and assert they are retaliatory merely because they followed on the heels of the arrests in Japan, these sources said, was drawing an unwarranted conclusion.

Jap Envoy Takes Hand

Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu personally went to the British foreign office with the protests against the arrests of businessmen, whom the embassy said were Satoru Makihara and Shunsukei Tanabe, the London managers of the great Japanese banking firms of Mitsubishi and Mitsui, respectively.

The two were understood to have been arrested under the aliens order of the defense regulations, which gives the home secretary power to deport aliens or order their detention.

A spokesman at the Japanese embassy said:

"We are flabbergasted at the action which has been taken."

He added that Ambassador Shigemitsu, in addition to lodging a protest, had asked full details of and reasons for the arrests.

The spokesman described the two men as "very pro-British and very sympathetic to Britain."

"We can not possibly imagine anything on their part to invite suspicion or give the impression they infringed on the regulations of this country," he said.

"We hope everything can be settled satisfactorily," he added.

Japan's arrests of the Britons were made on charges a British spy ring was operating in Japan.

On Tuesday British Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax told parliament that such charges had "no foundation whatsoever."

Military Developments

Major military events were these:

The Nazi air force extended its all-night raids on Britain into the daylight, slight damage and few casualties resulted, said the British; the Exchange Telegraph (British news agency) reported "hundreds" of Italians killed and much war material captured in fighting in Linya; the Germans said one U-boat sank seven armed British merchant ships on a long cruise and claimed other Nazi naval activity had resulted in the sinking of 260,000 tons of merchant shipping and 25,000 tons of war vessels during July; the Italian command acknowledged one killed, three injured in a British raid on a Sardinia naval base, declared Haifa, in the Holy Land burned for three days after an Italian bombardment July 25 and told of further extensive air strafing of the British in Africa and Egypt.

Britain, busily bolstering her defenses against Adolf Hitler's threatened blitzkrieg, received another contingent of Australian troops. A dispatch from Tangier, Morocco, to Grenoble, France, said the British fleet at Gibraltar had sailed to join in the defense of the United Kingdom.

Secret Orders Banned

The Petain government got on with its task of reorganizing France by banning Free Masonry and all other secret orders and further restricted sale of foodstuffs.

In the turbulent Far East it was reported that Japan, bent on extending her sway still further, had made "important representations" to the governor-general of French Indo-China, an appointee of the Petain government.

The French island colony of New Caledonia, said a dispatch to Sidney, had declared it will not bow to the French-German armis-

Fuehrer Would Give Much for Immediate Peace

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Fuehrer Hitler has scattered peace leaflets over England from the air.

Why? For what reason should the conqueror of a huge section of Europe pause in the flush of victory and try to persuade the Britons to seek peace, when the great object of his campaign has been to "annihilate" England and so destroy her vast influence over the continent?

By smashing Britain he could make himself undisputed master of Europe. The Nazis have announced that the most powerful military machine of history is all ready to roll again. Only last Wednesday our own Secretary of War Stimson said "a prudent trustee must take into consideration the possibility that in another thirty days Great Britain herself may be conquered."

Why then should the Nazi chief play about with peace and pile up opposition for himself?

Several Reasons

Well, actually there are several reasons which you and I have talked over more than once, but there is one in particular to which I wish to refer again because of its growing importance not only to Europe but the whole world.

This reason is that Hitler is no longer assured of a quick victory, despite his undoubted strength, and the war is tending toward a conflict of attrition.

That means Europe is headed fast for the utter chaos which Secretary of State Cordell Hull long ago predicted for it if it didn't quit wrangling and put its economic house in order.

Nobody ever wins any war. But in this instance both sides to the controversy are moving so rapidly towards catastrophe that only a quick peace can prevent it—if indeed it's not too late.

Hitler undoubtedly has recognized the great truth that the role which he should seek isn't that of war-lord but of economic-lord. That's one great reason why he is anxious to get peace—to permit economic rehabilitation.

Nazi Position Improves

Germany has improved its position considerably as a result of the recent conquests. Iron, steel and coal have come to her in large quantities from Luxembourg, Belgium and France. Her coal production has been increased 60 per cent or more, and this is used not only for fuel but to produce many vital products from it—gasoline, oil and rubber among them.

She has acquired food. Her timber supply is much improved. The industries of Holland, Belgium, Denmark, Norway and France have increased her war equipment. She has huge quantities of materials captured in battle.

Still, if Hitler had secured a hundred times this wealth it could profit him little if he couldn't put it to work constructively—if he couldn't get rid of the British blockade which slowly but surely is strangling Europe.

Before the war, but not so long ago, the fuehrer cried out that Germany must export or die. That was true then, and more true now. He is anxious to get the wheels of industry turning again, so that he can sell his goods. This is doubly essential because the reich has lit-

OHIO CIVIL WAR VETS CRUISE ON LAKE ERIE

In High Spirits for Reunion at Sandusky.

By The Associated Press

SANDUSKY, O., Aug. 3—Ohio's veterans of the Civil war attending their annual reunion were in high spirits today as they cruised on Lake Erie and prepared for an old-time camp fire.

Most of some 30 "Boys in Blue" at the reunion are nearing the century mark in age but many walk briskly, without canes.

The G. A. R. spirit was expressed by Frank Morris, 93, of Chardon, at the Ohio soldiers' and sailors' home registration headquarters in giving his age snappily as "43."

From Los Angeles came O. H. Castle, formerly of Champaign county, remarking: "No distance is too great for a reunion with my buddies."

Thomas Ridenour, 94, of Crestline, department commander, dazzled his company with a resplendent new Civil war uniform bearing gold insignia.

The commander-in-chief, President Roosevelt, sent this message to the veterans:

"The venerable survivors of the conflict which seems so far away to the rising generations, richly deserve all the honors that can be accorded them and I hope the reunion will be a happy event in the lives of the veterans and all who gather with them."

The convention extends through Sunday when Gov. Bricker and Mayor Harold L. Burton of Cleveland are scheduled to speak.

AUTO METERS GET RESULTS

All But 8 Show Coin Deposits After First Day in Service.

Verbal bouquets and brickbats, and some nickels, were collected during the first day's operation of the new parking meters placed in service yesterday.

A brief survey of the machines this morning revealed that at least one coin was deposited in all except eight of the 103 meters. How many five-cent pieces actually were collected is not definitely known, however, since only the last coin deposited is visible without opening the meter.

Police today continued patrolling the metered sections, helping acquaint the police with the machines and issuing special tickets for parking violations. The tickets are "courtesy tags" calling the motorists' attention to the violation and warning that no leniency will be shown second offenders.

Temporary Leniency

Courtesy tags will be used through today, Monday and Tuesday, after which a regular violation tag, requiring the offender to appear in municipal court will be issued. Officials pointed out again today that although they are being lenient during the first few days any motorist parking in a metered space without depositing a coin is violating a city ordinance and is subject to a fine.

Discussion of the meters ran the gamut of comment from praise to criticism. One professional man with an office in the uptown section reported he believed the new parking system is "the finest thing that has happened in Marion for a long time," while a street corner commentator was overheard to remark, "I won't come up town if I have to pay a nickel to park."

Traffic Flow Aided

Most persons were in agreement with general observations made by city officials. Adequate parking space was available for those who wished to stop in the uptown business section and traffic flowed rapidly through the main intersections, officials pointed out.

Yesterday's meeting lasted about two hours and a half and was held in the new federal building.

DIES SHORTLY AFTER BEING KNOCKED DOWN

Charles H. Upson, 70, Victim of Attack; Police Say Assailant Intoxicated.

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 3 — Charles H. Upson, 70-year-old Galion policeman, was fatally injured shortly after noon today when he was knocked down by an allegedly intoxicated man after an argument on Harding Way East, police reported.

According to witnesses, Upson had just gone on duty at the intersection of Harding Way and South street, when John Smith, 28, an employe of the National Vault Co. walked up to him and began to argue, police said.

Struck on Head

Smith is reported to have hit Patrolman Upson on the head, apparently with his fist, and knocked him over.

Upson suffered a severe gash in his head and it is believed this led to his death. Witnesses reported the aged man tried to get up but couldn't and that immediately an ambulance was called. He died within a few minutes, police said, before reaching the hospital.

On Traffic Duty

The accident happened at 12:10 p. m. just after Upson had gone on duty, directing traffic.

Smith, who lives in Galion, was taken into custody by police. No charges had been filed at 1 o'clock.

Police said Smith was intoxicated. The nature of the argument between Smith and Patrolman Upson was not learned.

Miss Naomi Weber, hospital superintendent, said there was no pulse when Upson reached the hospital.

Former Health Officer

Upson had been on the police force several years, Patrolman Guy Lowe, former Marion man, said.

He also had seen service as a health officer and merchant policeman.

He is survived by a widow and three sons.

Constable Nearby

Daniel Barrett, a constable, who was with Upson at the time, is believed to have heard what the argument was about, but he could not be reached immediately.

Police reported that Smith had been in the police station several days ago and was fined on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. They said his address was 241 South street.

Cash on Temple

A service station attendant said Upson fell on his back, tried to get up and fell again on his face.

Dr. Malcolm Switzer said that an autopsy would be performed on Upson's body this afternoon. He reported that Upson probably had suffered an internal hemmorrhage and that there was a gash on his right temple. Herman Volk, ambulance driver, said Upson bled profusely.

RALLY EFFORT LACKS POWER

Many Leaders Lose Fractions of Gains Made in Recent Sessions.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—Attempts to pin another small rally on the stock market met with scant success today and many leaders relinquished fractions of recent gains.

Price changes, though, were viewed as relatively unimportant owing to the sluggishness of dealings. Transfers were around 100,000 shares.

While business prospects, on the whole, were seen as an anti-selling argument, even here there was talk of a let-down in nearby weeks.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem skidded as next week's steel mill operations, it was predicted, would record a modest drop because of the suspension of a number of plant furnaces for repairs. At the same time, it was reported backlogs in this industry are sufficiently large to support the current rate of production for as much as seven weeks in the case of one corporation.

Neither General Motors nor Chrysler was able to work up any real rising urge. Notwithstanding continuance of satisfactory sales in this field and the likelihood several manufacturers would take on a line of armament contracts. At Detroit it was estimated prices for 1941 cars and trucks would be boosted from 3 to 5 per cent to take care of higher costs.

Backward most of the time was American Telephone, which announced a gain of 22,000 stations in July versus 11,000 in the same 1939 month and 18,100 in June of the present year.

In arrears occasionally were Kennecott, Great Northern, Woolworth, Goodyear, Du Pont and Union Carbide. Resistant were Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., Anaconda, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit, Pennsylvania and U. S. Rubber.

Boston Wool

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Aug. 3—Demand for fleece wools was very limited during the past week on the Boston wool market. Early in the week there was a little interest in fine Ohio Delaines and in low quarter blood common and braid fleeces, but three eighths blood and one quarter blood wools were largely neglected. Quotations on graded combing bright fleece wools were mostly at 32-35 cents in the grease, for fine Delaine at 34-36 cents for half bloods, at 38-40 cents for three eighths and one quarter blood grades.

CORN SETBACK HURTS OTHER GRAIN PRICES

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 3—Another setback in the price of corn futures on which new corn could be delivered gave the entire grain market a weak tone today. December and May corn fell about a cent a bushel to the lowest levels in about two weeks.

Most of the weakness was attributed to weather, with continued showery conditions in many sections of the belt apparently improving the crop situation. The weekly forecast, however, predicted generally fair skies with temperatures above normal in the Great Lakes, upper Mississippi valley and northern great plains regions. Showery conditions predicted for the spring wheat belt may further delay harvesting, in some areas, grain men said.

Corn closed ¼-1 cent lower than yesterday, September 60-60⅛; December 56-56¼; wheat ⅛-½ lower, September 75⅛-¾, December 75¾-7⅞; oats unchanged to ⅜ off.

Motherhood Made Easy for Oregon Fish With Ether

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore. — An anesthetic for fish mothers is making mild wifery easy for Oregon's hatchery department.

Dr. Francis P. Griffiths, chief of scientific investigations for the state game commission, tired of the struggle to strip migrant fish of their eggs for artificial spawning.

A female steelhead, for one, is capable of a prodigious protest and a fair percentage of eggs are lost in the struggle, although the fish is unharmed.

Dr. Griffiths found that 200 cubic centimeters of ether would take the fight out of the huskiest steelhead that ever flipped a fin.

The fish are lifted directly from the trap in a dip net and immersed in the solution. Results of the anesthesia are uniform, Dr. Griffiths said, although some steelheads "go under" in 45 seconds while others may take as long as two minutes to reach their lethyological dreamland.

"The fish are completely relaxed," the doctor explained, "and stripping them is a simple matter. There is virtually no loss in the eggs and the anesthetized adults recover in a few moments after transfer to normal water."

Dr. Griffiths predicted another advantage would be the reduced crews required for spawning operations each spring.

Half supporting cardboard sections have been invented to divide freezers into compartments of desired shapes and sizes.

Energy Value of Milk

MILK IS generally acknowledged as the most nearly perfect food. It provides the dietary essentials—protein, fat and carbohydrates—as well as minerals and vitamins. Nowadays with the improvement in dairy hygiene and public health inspection it has lost the dangers of causing intestinal infection in the summer and ideal summer beverage food.

Milk and the dairy products are really among our most economical foods as they give more nutritive value at less cost than so many other foods. Government nutritionists suggest that from one-fifth to one-third of the average American family's allowance for food could be well spent on milk and its products. Physicians as a rule recommend a quart of milk a day for children and at least a pint for adults.

Milk is an excellent source of vitamin A something frequently lacking in our American diets. Without vitamin A growth in children can be impaired night blindness can result and resistance to infections is lowered especially in the respiratory tract. Of the minimum daily requirement of 3,000 units of vitamin A one quart of milk contains 2,000 and 1½ ounces of butter will supply 1,500 units.

A quart of milk provides all the calcium needed by an individual for a day much of the phosphorus at least one-fourth of the energy and some of the vitamin B C and D. Calcium and phosphorus are responsible for the hardness of teeth and bones calcium is necessary for their good growth. One pint of milk contains as much calcium as 15 to 20 ordinary servings of fruits and vegetables.

Staying in Line

A SERMONETTE

By REV D N KELLY
Pastor, Wesley Methodist Church

Theme "Stay in Line, There Are Many Behind You."

THE theme we are using for this sermonette we saw on the rear of a large truck on the road from Cleveland to Buffalo This is expressive of a great fact of life There are those who are ambitious to get ahead in life and to keep ahead Others are willing to remain in the rear It is highly commendable to get ahead if in so doing others are not disappointed A man said he would be at the head of the procession if he had to ride in the hearse

Twofold Motive If we can find what the motives of life are we can tell what the life is There are mixed motives Sam Jones tells of a dog that was chased by another dog and this was chased by a third dog The second dog had two motives it wanted to catch the one ahead and it wanted to keep away from the one behind It is thus with folks This is largely the philosophy of modern success

WE are willing to go ahead of others but we are not pleased when we are left behind To go slow in this age of speed is about as bad as going too fast There are always those who set the pace in society in education business and fashion Every successful Chirstian business man is a challenge to all men in business

There is always danger in passing But it is necessary for some are too slow The world moves on We must keep up with the best in life, or be left behind There is always the haunting horror of being left behind However there is the moral basis of success, and there are Spiritual Ideals that are always leading upward.

Casual Slaughters

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY Mimi met Colonel Pennant and Julia as a sales clerk in New York When she lost her job the colonel asked her to marry him She feels her intense love for him is not reciprocated and is insanely jealous"

• • •

Bundle of Contradictions

JEFF grew quite attached to both Dan and me Mimi went on He idolizes Dan His own father turned against him toward the last — I blame Sandra for that too—and Jeff had to transfer his affections And because I was Dan's wife I came in for my share He wasn't in love with me —that's just silly If I'd even thought of such a thing I'd never have let him take me out when Julia was away at school But I can see now what construction Sandra's evil little mind probably put on it at once She was like that Kay I was a long time finding it out but I'm telling you now what I know to be the truth

'Late that summer about the last week of her visit there was a hop Jeff got a date for Sandra and he was taking Julia But at the last minute Julia went to bed with a headache so Jeff persuaded me to go in her place

We went in our car the four of us but after the hop Sandra and her Kaydet decided to walk home I thought they wanted to do a little necking So Jeff and I drove home alone and as it was only a short walk back to barracks and he had plenty of time I suggested that he come in and wait until they arrived so he could walk back with his friend

Dan had not waited up and the fact that he hadn't made me feel pretty low in my mind I was always expecting him to treat me like a bride and being disappointed when he didn't This particular night I was feeling depressed anyway I didn't really have much fun at those kid parties and I would far rather have stayed at home with Dan, if he hadn't urged me to go

'Jeff was always so sweet and understanding and suddenly without intending to I was telling him my troubles, just as if he were my kid brother He put his arm around me and told me he was sure Dan was crazy about me —that sort of thing trying to comfort me

I was crying on his shoulder when Sandra came in She was always a pussyfoot I didn't hear a sound just looked up and saw her standing in the archway from the hall looking at us—'

Mimi got up and began to walk around the room again Her hands were clenched and her face was cold and angry I waited and after a moment she went on

She didn't say much but it was perfectly plain what she was thinking The nastiest expression came into her eyes an expression of satisfaction like a cat that has just finished a mouse I don't suppose Jeff got it, but I did She was pleased Kay She had something on us I realized with an awful sinking sensation that she wouldn't hesitate to use it

"Her Kaydet had left her at the door and gone back to barracks Jeff followed as quickly as he could I started to explain to Sandra knowing it was useless and she interrupted me

'So Upright'

" You don't need to think up a story for me,' she said with a nasty little smile 'I probably won't tell Dan' And then, humming insolently to herself, she went up to her room '

'What did you do'"

What could I do I've wished a thousand times that I had gone straight to Dan with it But Kay I'm an awful coward where he's concerned Suppose he hadn't believed me' Suppose he had listened to Sandra instead' I tell you he would never hear a word against that girl She could be so plausible and she could wind men around her finger like—like worms

I can see that she might have made it look pretty ugly if she'd wanted to

'Ugly- If Dan were even to suspect me of such a thing I don't believe I could bear it He's so—so upright so honorable Oh I know I don't always act as though I thought so but in my heart I know Don't you see that's why he never would be jealous of me wouldn't tolerate my jealousy He was really paying me a compliment I realized it when I began thinking it over after this came up—

I sat there studying her trying to understand this bundle of contradictions this woman tortured by a sense of inadequacy rebelling occasionally against her own conception of her husband as a sort of God incorruptible impervious to human frailties a God who filled her life with kindness but no warmth And I began to feel a faint stirring of resentment toward that upright honorable man

Her story grew less coherent as she went along She had lived always it seemed with her fear of Sandra And Sandra had held her advantage covertly as a threat over Mimi's head By means of it she had succeeded in being asked again and again to West Point during Julia's absence And she had worked on Jeff

I don't doubt she made Jeff think I was in love with him she said indignantly And there was nothing I could do about it He avoided me as if I had smallpox He never came to our house any more except to see Sandra and as she got in her work he went more and more to New York You can see how he would feel He couldn't go on and marry Julia, he brought into closer contact than before with me the wife of his friend and superior officer He would have been scared to death of the whole situation '

Then you don't think she openly blackmailed him into marrying her? I mean by threatening to go to Colonel Pennant?

'I've no way of knowing but I think she was clever enough to play on Jeff's conscience and to make him think she was saving him from something pretty awful He changed—you've no idea how he changed Kay And I've thought or tried to think that he really did love Sandra—'

We were back again to Jeff who hadn't loved Sandra I knew that now after seeing him for that one defenseless moment with Julia in the prison ward And all that I learned only served for worse to incriminate him He'd had reason to hate Sandra too

I said what I could to Mimi and it was little enough I did not recount the case I had made out against Jeff for I could see that she had enough on her mind without that. And presently looking weary but a little more at peace with herself she went to her room to dress for dinner

Coldly Aloof

Gerald Beaufort was with the colonel when I went down

You're staying here tonight'' he asked me crisply. 'That's good" He grinned suddenly with a return to his former manner "I promised Adam to look after you, but I can't say I've been a howling success I'll be glad to delegate the responsibility

"You're very flattering"

"That's me" he said cheerfully Fringy the fearless flatterer they call me—

I caught my breath, but he did not seem to know what he had said He turned back toward Colonel Pennant.

'It's very kind of you and Mrs. Pennant to ask me to stay to dinner but you see how it is, sir I'll be at your office the first thing in the morning—'

I left him taking his departure and went on into the living room. Fringy' Then he was an imposter He had known that man at the inn I would ask Julia at dinner if she didn't remember the man calling him that.

But Julia sent word by Mimi that she had a headache and would not come down

There was no opportunity for me to bring up the subject of Gerald during the meal for Colonel Pennant took the conversational reins into his own hands and conducted a tour Murder and kindred subjects were I quickly saw as taboo as naughty stories at a missionary meeting

I divided my attention between the dinner for which I had no appetite and the conversational display in which I could summon no interest But my thoughts dwelt unhappily on Julia and the manner in which I had betrayed her

As soon as dinner was over I asked Mimi to find out if Julia would see me I followed her upstairs and waited in the hall until Mimi came out looking depressed and sorry

She doesn't feel well enough to talk she said apologetically But I think she'll be all right in the morning Kay It's probably better just to leave her alone don't you think so?

I went to my room and looked indecisively at my overnight case packed and ready to travel If I mentioned going back to the club now there would be no end of a stir—

I thought of Gerald again and went out of my room and down the stairs

Colonel Pennant was in the library He rose as I entered Perhaps it was a trick of the light from the green-shaded desk lamp perhaps Mimi's story had colored my view of him perhaps he was only tired Whatever the cause he seemed less human grimmer coldly aloof

I'm sorry Julia is so rude" he said She's behaving like a spoiled child I've told her there's no reason for her to resent your telling what you knew and no occasion for her to rush to Jeff's defense If he is acquitted I shall be the first to rejoice——'

I felt chilled 'You're going to charge him with murder then?'

Naturally The evidence all points to him

'But what motive? I asked desperately

The most sordid motive in the world I'm afraid Greed Sandra was alone in the world He will—or would—inherit everything '

There were cold anger and contempt in the words My heart sank

Little Stories of GREAT HYMNS

This soothing evening hymn was written by the Rev Sabine Baring-Gould for his Sunday School children. It was inspired by the verse from the Book of Proverbs, "When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid, yea, thou shalt lie down and thy sleep shall be sweet."

First Special Tax Proposal Reaches Board of Elections

Two-Mills Sought for Caledonia Schools; Marion Schools' 3-Mill Levy To Be Up for Renewal

The first of the tax levies on which Marion county residents will vote in the presidential election Nov. 5 has been placed on file at the board of elections, and indications are that there will be at least two more.

First in line is Caledonia village school district which proposes a two-mill levy for three years for operating expenses. It is the only one filed as yet.

Of more interest to Marion residents, however, is the city schools' operating levy which expires this year. This will be up for renewal this fall, and unless it passes County Auditor Harry V. Mounts sees dire things ahead for the financial structure of the entire county.

The levy, which has been in effect for years, amounts to three mills, raising about $101,000 a year. It usually runs for five years, the limit allowed by law.

The operation of the city schools is financed jointly by state and local taxes, but the state won't help unless there is at least a three-mill levy against local real estate to support the schools.

Would Cut Into Others.

If the city school levy should be defeated, then it probably would be necessary to levy three mills inside the 10-mill limitation and this would have the effect of taking money from the city and county governments. The city schools are guaranteed by law a maximum of three mills inside the 10-mill limit, but in past years have used only two mills, Auditor Mounts reported. This is because they have had the three-mill levy outside the 10-mill limit to bolster their funds.

The Caledonia school levy is also proposed for outside the 10-mill limit. It would raise $3,518 a year and collection would begin probably early next year. It is a new tax, according to the auditor.

Another school levy which expires this year is at Prospect where a three-mill tax has been in effect. It raises $6,841 a year. Although the Prospect board has not signified whether it will seek to renew the levy, it is expected that it will do so.

All these levies would be placed in next year's tax rates, if they are approved by the voters. Auditor Mounts said that tentative rates will be set up in advance of the election on the assumption that the city levy will pass. If it fails, the rates will have to be juggled around.

Budgets Arriving.

Budgets from various subdivisions of the county are coming in fairly rapidly at Mr. Mounts' office. These will be used by the county budget commission in drafting tax rates.

Marion city and county budgets have already been reviewed in The Star.

Budgets of other divisions thus far, listing the estimated expenditures for 1941, follow:

Townships—Green Camp, $1,900; Grand, $1,545 down about $65 from this year's estimate; Richland, $2,145, up about $300 from this year's estimate, Scott, $4,434, up about $150 from this year's estimate, Marion, $9,020, up about $3,800 from this year's estimate (includes provision of $3,800 for fire protection), Waldo, $1,472, up about $500 from this year's estimate, Montgomery, $3,282 up about $380 from this year's estimate, Claridon, $4,256, up about $700 from this year's estimate Tully, $2,211, up about $650 from this year's estimate.

School districts—Grand Prairie, $14,585, up $1,030 from this year's estimate, Tully, $16,424, up about $800 from this year's estimate LaRue, $34,651, down $866 from this year's estimate, Waldo, $26,043, up $2,134 from this year's estimate.

C. C. Holliday of the LaRue school district attached a note to his budget.

"This budget is not padded. Figures are as nearly exact as it is possible to make them at this time."

Generally, budget-makers ask for more than they can get.

REGISTRATION SET AT HARDING HIGH

Principal To Be at Office 3 Days Next Week.

Principal O. H. P. Snyder today reminded pupils who contemplate entering Harding High school next month that they will be given opportunity to register next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the school.

All pupils whose registrations were incomplete last spring or who, because of failure or any other reason, would like to change the courses for which they are registered, may do so during the first three days of next week.

Mr. Snyder's office on the first floor of the high school building will be open from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1 to 4:30 p. m. As a convenience for those who were employed or who will otherwise be unable to go to the high school, Mr. Snyder has arranged to take telephone calls at his home between 6:30 and 9:30 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

"It may be that some pupils are at this time uncertain as to whether they will attend Harding this fall," Mr. Snyder said. "Such persons should by all means register if there is any possibility of their attending.

"Registration in no way binds one to attend school and nothing is lost if a student who has registered finds it impossible to attend when the opening date arrives.

"However, if one who has not registered for classes comes to school on the opening day he throws added work on the staff at a very busy time as well as handicaps himself by missing very important first day of class work."

Grateful for Jefferson

NEW DEALERS have strayed so far from Thomas Jefferson they don't mention his name The New Deal is not Jeffersonian Democracy Politicians look to establish central authority over everything in the nation never can be Jeffersonian Democrats This is a first rate political phenomenon

Since New Dealers now control the Democratic party lock stock and barrel there is nothing for Jeffersonians to do but leave the organization unless they choose to play the barren role of hypocrite Those who leave are moved from within by disapproval of New Deal centralization of authority and the doctrine of indispensability foisted on the party for the purpose of maintaining New Dealers in power under the protection of President Roosevelt They are attracted from without by the political principles of Wendell Willkie

The Democratic party traditionally has made a talking point of Jefferson's principles to the chagrin of the Republican party whose members recognized long ago that their hope lay in making a party saint of Abraham Lincoln rather than Alexander Hamilton Jefferson's contemporary and opponent In other words Jeffersonianism was a national creed not a party creed The party which owned it had a priceless political asset

In 1040 the Republican party has nominated Wendell Willkie revealed by his speeches and writings to be a thorough going Jeffersonian Democrat Since at the same time the Democratic party has broken Jefferson's precept against a third term by nominating Mr Roosevelt and indorsing the centralized power politics of the New Deal It is plain that Republicans have fallen heir to the most valuable political asset in the United States Thomas Jefferson's political principles They are grateful

Flynn from the Bronx

JAMES A FARLEY never loomed larger as Democratic national chairman than by comparison with his successor Edward J Flynn

Mr Flynn is national committeeman from New York, Democratic boss in the Bronx New York City a former minor state official and the holder of a more or less honorary position—post of federal commissioner to the New York fair He and his background are strictly New York

Perhaps the news behind the news of his selection to be national chairman is contained in a New York Times story Thursday The story pointed out that a subcommittee of the Democratic national committee would meet that day to select a chairman and that Leo T Crowley chairman of the board of the Standard Gas and Electric Co and chairman of federal deposit insurance commission was the probable choice

'The one objection to Mr Crowley continued The Times is that he is the head of a public utility corporation holding a position similar to that of Wendell L Willkie Republican nominee for president at the time of the latter's nomination The question was asked here if selection of a public utility official as chairman of the Democratic national committee would not weaken the attack on Mr Willkie as a former public utility chief which the Democrats have planned to use in certain states

Mr Flynn was chairman of the subcommittee which was expected to select Mr Crowley Mr Crowley didn't get the job Mr Flynn got it He probably drafted himself

How Red the Nose!

THE subject of the next few lines is not fit for sensitive readers It is the war boom—the economic jag which the United States has embarked on and eventually must pay for in headaches.

According to a study of family purchasing power just completed by Northwestern Life Insurance Co war industries already are responsible for a hundred million dollar monthly increase in family income since last summer The war industries are above their best 1937 levels, though general manufacturing activity still lags behind Improvement in payrolls, employment and merchandising does not reflect general business improvement in other words but only the war boom

The boom's companion effect is higher cost of living A typical worker's family with earnings of $120 at average 1933 payroll levels and spending the same amount for its living at average 1933 prices had to pay out $129 72 in June 1939, to maintain the same standard as $120 would support in 1933 but meanwhile its monthly pay check had risen to $144 71 By June, 1940, its living expenses were $132 01 for the month and its pay check had increased to $150 91

Only spoilsports talk disparagingly about war booms while they are in progress on the theory it is bad taste to mention the redness of a convivial soul's nose while he is contributing to the cause thereof But oh what a headache is in store this time the World war headache was only a sample

Trade Figures Taken as Key to Argentina's Efforts Toward Appeasement.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug 3—The explanation behind Argentina's firm appeasement efforts at Havana may have been discovered in some of her trade figures just acquired here in official quarters

An official publication of the Argentine ministry to finance reports her trade with Hitler fell off from 56 million pesos to 3 000 pesos in the comparative five months periods of last year and this

Paul Mallon

But deeper back in the official statement is an accounting of the increased business which Argentina did with four neutrals surrounding Germany at the same time Her exports to Italy jumped from 5 million to 42 million pesos to Switzerland from 2 to 15 million to Sweden from 11 million to 14 million and to Denmark 2 million to 9 million

Her trade through the loophole neutrals in the Allied blockade increased by almost exactly the amount her exports to Hitler diminished

Bewildering Figures

These are not the most bewildering trade figures that have come from Latin America lately Proof has been found that Chilean nitrate export figures announced at Santiago are false It has been disclosed that the official government publication Chilean Statistics has been valuing its nitrate quintals at $1 40 instead of $1 90 as they should be on the basis of the value of the peso in the world market Investigation brought no more adequate explanation than that the Chilean nitrate trade preferred the smaller figure

The effect has been to deceive the world as to the sales of this prime product for munitions and fertilizers by more than 25 per cent

Havana Accomplishment

Prime tactical accomplishment of the Havana conference is one that is never mentioned officially although State Undersecretary Welles has come quite close to letting it slip The agreement to seize and segregate as independent any American colony suffering a change in administration in its homeland, will open the way for this government to expand and fortify the Monroe Doctrine by applying the new principle to Martinique Don't think the administration will hesitate when the time is ripe The action was under discussion in high quarters at least ten days before the Havana conference opened

Surprise

A White House friend enumerated the prospects for Democratic national chairman the night before the choice was made and mentioned five names but not that of Edward Flynn who got it Flynn is considered to have been well down on Mr Roosevelt's own card Among those who certainly turned the post down are Farley (upon whom considerable personal pressure was exerted even after the announcement of his decision to retire) Senator Byrnes and Paul McNutt

Flynn is not well known to the New Deal politicians outside New York He will get along well with Mr Roosevelt personally in view of their old friendship but the national committee coterie's comment is that his biggest initial task will be to establish personal connections with the party leaders out around the country

Business Outlook

Mr Roosevelt's economists smirk at the suggestion in outstanding national business statistical magazines that production is due to slide Private business analysts have been claiming inventories are accumulating consumption is not being maintained and commodity prices are weak But figures of the commerce department do not yet justify these conclusions Its figures showed no inventories accumulated in June consumption unchanged and commodity prices up slightly in July

Confirmed opinion here therefore is that production is certain to expand during the rest of this year One month or two might fail to show an increase but a long range surge cannot be avoided if the armaments program is continued as expected

Business Chart

Production reached a seasonally adjusted high of 117 for July as official figures will shortly disclose This is up only 3 points from June and is due entirely to hurried private orders to get in under the wire before the government defense orders become operative

Usual monthly chart showing how things are going is based on 1923 25 averages as 100 and all figures are adjusted for seasonal variation except payrolls

U. S Must Wait Until 1946 for Navy Adequate To Defend Both Oceans.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

WASHINGTON Aug 3 — Because the United States is separated from all the other great powers by the two oceans not only the first line of defense but the whole defense of America depends upon naval power This country cannot be attacked by the armies and air forces of Europe or Asia as long as the American navy can prevent them from making a landing and establishing bases within striking distance of this hemisphere Against a superior navy it is impossible to make a landing overseas

Walter Lippmann

But with a superior navy it is entirely feasible to make a landing overseas In our own history European armies have been landed in this hemisphere again and again

It is therefore indisputable that American security depends upon maintaining naval supremacy as against its potential enemies That is why the congress has within the last month authorized the expenditure of ten billion dollars in order to enlarge the navy by 70 per cent Every senator now opposing the conscription bill every senator who is issuing statements about 'war hysteria supported this gigantic increase in the navy Why? Because the senate unanimously and the house with only one dissenter Mr Marcantonio of New York accepted the conclusion in the report of Senator Walsh of Massachusetts the chairman of the naval affairs committee

Committee's Report

'The changes in the international situation which have taken place recently are well known The possibilities confronting the nations of the world today including those of the western hemisphere are of a most serious nature Our present navy including the vessels and planes now authorized, may be inadequate to meet successfully possible or even probable international situations which may occur in the near future The committee is of the opinion that we should face the fact that we may have to defend ourselves in both oceans at the same time and that a further expansion of our navy is essential if we are to make our naval defenses sufficiently strong to insure success in case we are attacked Our navy must be ready for complete freedom of action against any opposition in either ocean while carrying on effective defensive operations in the other ocean Anything less than a naval strength to meet this requirement leaves the United States in a position of insecurity The committee feels that the United States should make clear to the world its intentions to meet immediately these defense requirements and recommend a 70 per cent increase in the authorized combatant strength of the navy a 50 per cent increase in the number of useful naval aircraft and an increase in the number of auxiliary vessels patrol vessels and miscellaneous craft The committee also recommends that the expansion authorized by the bill be made at the earliest practicable date under emergency building conditions and that additional shipbuilding and airplane building facilities be provided whenever by so doing the completion of the vessels and planes of the expanded program will be expedited

It is realized that the keels of the new vessels authorized cannot be laid down immediately nevertheless the preparation of material can parallel the rapid development of new construction facilities This will enable the new vessel to be completed at the earliest possible date

Our navy including our naval air forces must always remain the first military line of our defense forces To be an effective deterrent or failing this to be equal to its war mission it must be ready and be stronger than potential agressors To be second best is not only an invitation to war but to utter disaster All history proves this contention and the defeat of the French offers a classic example The timely expenditure of $10 000 000 000 for national defense might have maintained intact both the French and

The Barometer and What It Tells Us

At All Times a Very Important Part of Weatherman's Equipment

By JACK ELLIOTT

UNDOUBTEDLY during the recent heat wave you observed each day the barometer reading in Weatherman Raffensperger's report and possibly many of you wondered what the point is

At first glance it doesn't seem to have much connection with the weather but without a barometer the weatherman would be pretty much in the dark something like a doctor without his stethoscope or the astronomer without his telescope

We must confess we forgot long ago just why barometers are important so we looked up a few facts and pass them on to you to think over when the next heat wave arrives

The barometer first of all is an instrument for measuring the weight of the air which varies almost continually It is a glass tube 33 or 34 inches long and closed at one end It is filled with pure mercury and set upside down in a little cup then both the cup and the tube are attached to a standard on which appears a scale of inches

When the tube is set upside down the mercury falls in the tube to a level at which the weight of the air outside will hold it up As the weight of the air changes the level of the mercury in the tube rises and falls

GENERALLY speaking the average weight of the air at sea level is equal to a column of mercury 30 inches high Air pressures of more than 30 inches are usually designated as high pressure areas and those below 30 are called low pressure areas

As with most other things air will flow from a high pressure area to a low pressure area This creates winds

The differences in pressure of the air in various regions of the earth is due to a number of things

1 Unequal heating of the air by the sun warm air being expanded and hence lighter than cold air

2 General circulation of the atmosphere because of the rotation of the earth

3 Differences in amounts of moisture in the air Moist air, strangely is lighter than dry air This is because molecules of water are lighter than the air molecules which they displace

These three things acting in varying degrees have everything to do with the weather They interact in so many different ways throughout the earth that it is estimated there are 44 000 storms a day in the world Scarcely a second passes that there are not at least 100 lightning flashes somewhere on the earth

And every second these three factors combine to spill 16 000 000 tons of snow and rain on the earth at countless places Incidentally every inch of rain means 100 tons of water to an acre

But to get back to the barometer —when the air pressure on the barometer is decreasing it generally means that there will be a rise in temperature and probably rain A rising barometer generally means clear weather and lower temperatures

FOR instance during the approach of the disastrous hurricane on Miami Fla in 1926 the barometer sank to a low of 27 61 inches

Marion's barometric pressure averages somewhat below 30 inches because the city is located 985 feet above sea level The higher you go the less pressure there is

While reading up on our barometers we decided to investigate the old saying It's not the heat its the humidity '

This we find is quite true When the air is humid (containing a greater amount of moisture than usual) we are especially sensitive to temperature changes.

Humidity is defined as the amount of moisture in the air This varies with the temperature and pressure Pressure being equal air at 90 degrees will hold 30 times as much moisture as at zero

In Arizona where the air is relatively dry 90 degrees is not uncomfortable but along the moist Gulf of Mexico 90 degrees is almost insufferably hot In the dry desert area much of the heat which strikes the body is used up in evaporating perspiration which in turn tends to leave the body cool Along the Gulf you just sweat and sweat and the humidity checks evaporation

High humidity is conducive to anemia kidney trouble and other ailment It hastens decay and rust and makes preservation of some products difficult

It also affects agriculture crops in humid regions needing less rain than in dry areas

Humidity is usually expressed in percentages When air has all the moisture it can hold the relative humidity is 100 per cent

It doesn't hold much In a block of dense fog 100 feet long six feet high and three feet wide there is only about a seventh of a glass of water Someone figured out this is split into 60 billion drops

Our Apologies

Restaurant Riot Started
Careless Waiter Brought
Festooned with Parsley

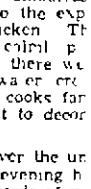
By DAMON RUNYO

THIS is by way of public apology We cerely ask pardon of the diners in a restaurant Their sense of conventions have been outraged and their digestions perhaps impaired by a most unseemly exhibition on our part the other evening

We do not now recall all our dreadful We are told by competent witnesses we the most inedible language and danced down and threw our arms about in an amazing fury Finally we are informed, we started pegging dishes and knives and forks about the premises They say our frenzy lasted so long our iced tea got hot



Damon R

Well we are sorry Our friends will tell you we are a man of calm disposition We almost never get angry Certainly not to the point of open and violent display of our anger We went into that restaurant as jovial as Kris Kringle and in fact remember that we were hearkily at some jest shouted at us across the room, when in an instant all went black to us We recollect no more

That was the instant the waiter and unused friend set before us our order of soup with a nest of parsley on the platter

THE WAITER has since called up to forgot himself in placing the parsley but of course it was too late to save us that weird exhibition He said we owe 25 cents, the price of a bottle of eyewash he purchase after we picked up the parsley and hit him on the orb with it

Only once before had we ever chucked anything in a restaurant and that time it was in sorrow than in anger We knocked a restaurant owner's oupee off with a bake of cress which had been brought on an order of fish There were extenuating circumstances in favor of the restaurant because we had been there before and of course the management could not be expected to know we were in favor of parsley or water cress

Parsley is all right in flavoring cooking cress is swell in a salad But as adornments what they call garnishment, of the platter deem vegetation of this nature wholly useless and a nuisance It gets in your fingers we want our plate garnished with is for once saw a fellow eat the parsley trimming his plate but he afterward confessed he knew it was alfalfa

WE PUT parsley and water cress decidedly in the same class with those paper doilies some cooks place on chicken legs and bones We have found these adjuncts fraught with getting a good handhold and are fraught with peril Once when we were eating a chicken leg in drawers and arguing at the time an unhappy gesticulation caused the leg to fly out of the paper casing and strike a diner 10 yards away between her frou frou

We were not only greatly embarrassed by this incident but were put to the expense of getting another order of chicken The retrieved our vagrant leg and colorful paper but much it took a shred But there was no guessing from parsley and water cress never could understand why cooks for any particular stuff If they want to decorate plates we recommend lilies

ANGUISH of our remorse over the unfortunate incident of the other evening has been tempered to some extent by words of sympathy and even of admiration which have come from total strangers, including several persons who demonstration A resident of Camden writes that for many years he has looked with against the parsley and water cress habit in our public dining but never had the courage He says he salutes us as a patriot.

A citizen of Nashville Tenn who does not state how he learned of the incident telephoned asking our terms to visit his home to take pictures of the parsley and water cress situation It seems his wife goes in for garnishment on a large scale We wonder if she also has a finger bowl placed in front of you on a plate on which you are expected to remove the parsley and basin after dunking your dukes so you can use for dessert If so we could easily be tempted to go help out the poor guy

Why France Lost

NEW YORK Aug 3—Backward look at civilian panic fifth column activities and lack of coordination with her allies are blamed for France's defeat by General Charles de Gaulle leader of the French forces which are still trying on the fight in defiance of Marshal Petain's orders

In an interview with Quentin Reynolds correspondent of Collier's Weekly General de Gaulle states

'France lost the war for very definite reasons These were First of all our military system did not bother to develop any mechanized units In the air and on the ground second the fifth column which gripped our civilian population after the advance of the German mechanized units Third the tangible effect the fifth column had on the minds of many of our leaders and fourth the lack of coordination between us and our Allies

General de Gaulle who has long been an advocate of mechanized warfare but whose condemnation of the French policy of passive defense brought him nothing but a rebuke and impertinence told Reynolds that the keys to victory

Germany can still be beaten even now he said But we must make use of the weapons which she has used so successfully Germany won with 6 000 tanks and 5 000 planes She must be beaten by 20 000 tanks and 20 000 planes

Reynolds reveals the ironic fact that it was the theories of General de Gaulle which led to the defeat the French army In 1934 the general then an obscure captain published a book on mechanized warfare This volume 'L'Armee de Metier' received scant attention in France but it became the bible of General Guderian who was then just beginning to organize the mechanized forces of the Reich who later utilized the tactics outlined by de Gaulle during the Nazi sweep through France

In discussing the European war as it affects and may affect the United States, General de Gaulle said

"To date the war has taught us that we have a real military revolution If I were an American I would take these lessons to heart We must be ready at any time with the most modern weapons to meet a modern attack with mechanized forces of air land and sea If I were an American I would take for my slogan that we should do our utmost to save liberty in the world by all means and at any cost.

Child Trails Ice Cream Vendor; Is Lost Two Hours

A four-year-old Ft. Wayne, Ind., boy, Richard Patton, who came here with his parents to visit Thursady night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Snyder of 7 Hughes court, caused his family several anxious hours when he became lost after following an ice cream vendor's cart.

His parents called police and spread the word about the neighborhood when they were unable to find the boy about 8 p. m. The search continued for two hours with more neighbors joining in until virtually everyone in the vicinity of Church and Orchard streets for a distance of several blocks was assisting.

Meanwhile Richard, apparently unmindful of the consternation he was causing, had wandered as far as Gurley avenue. A resident of the neighborhood found him, discovered that he was lost and took him to the police department. Officers who had aided in the search returned him to his parents.

UNION DENIES PART IN STEAMSHIP STRIKE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 3—Unlicensed crewmen who left the ore freighter B. F. Jones at Superior, Wis., did so of their own accord, an officer of the C.I.O. National Maritime union said today.

Hays Jones, Cleveland N.M.U. organizer, asserted the union had no connection with the walkout affecting the vessel operated by Interstate Steamship Co., a subsidiary of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Unlicensed seamen left the ship after drawing pay Thursday, and licensed crew members took the vessel to Duluth, Minn., where a new crew went aboard to bring the ore cargo down the lakes.

Although the N.M.U. denied connection with the walkout, the union won a bargaining election among employes on the Interstate ships. Interstate officials said the B. F. Jones' crew walked out to enforce demands for a union contract.

tice and has pledged support to Britain.

On the war front, Nazi Aviation General Karl Schweickhard declared the German air force in a position now to blanket Britain with a paralyzing attack dwarfing the present German raids, described by the German press as "mere pin pricks."

General Schweickhard, hinting at imminence of such a mass onslaught, contended that the odds in air raiding lie with Germany because British industry is concentrated more densely than that of Germany.

Bomb Raids Continue

The British apparently raided northwest Germany again last night and this morning. The Germans did not mention it, but the Bremen radio station shut down, as it always does when raiders are in the neighborhood.

Already the British claim they have laid the port of Hamburg in ruins and have smashed at German airdromes, seaports, factories and munitions and supply caches.

These great blows—3,000 raids on more than 100 German cities—have so weakened German blitzkrieg preparations as to give England her current comparative breathing spell, the British intimated.

The German daily and nightly air raids on British ships and soil continued, however. Bombs were dropped in wide scattered areas, and German planes were seen to attack ships well offshore. During the night German planes attacked northeast Scotland, the midlands, southeast England and the Bristol channel area. Damage was reported light except at a town in the Bristol channel region where a residential district was struck, causing "a few minor casualties."

Britain Preparing

In anticipation of an attempted German invasion, British land forces are drilling daily in maneuvers that extend over whole tiers of counties and include gunnery practice with heavy ordnance that has been set up behind the beaches to command targets far out at sea.

Meanwhile, the British inner war cabinet has a new member, Lord Beaverbrook, the newspaper publisher who is in charge of aircraft production.

The press speculated that his advancement might mean the end of active political affairs for former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. Now lord president of council, Chamberlain still is in a hospital after a recent operation.

On the diplomatic front, Adolf Hitler's plans for settlement of Rumanian - Hungarian territorial problems, calling for vast population shifts affecting 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 persons, were disclosed by German circles in Bucharest.

They said the transfers would be made regardless of how much land Rumania may cede to Hungary, with Germans in the affected territory being repatriated and Rumanians and Hungarians returning within their national borders.

Rumania's discussions with Bulgaria over the latter's claim on southern Dobruja are to begin next Wednesday, to be followed by Rumanian-Hungarian conferences.

Gardener Turns Fruit Tree Into Virtual Orchard

By The Associated Press

STONINGTON, Conn. — A single fruit tree, and a scrawny one at that, becomes a veritable orchard when Thomas Glover, a gardener for 30 years, gets his hands on it.

Glover, who has conducted many experiments in grafting and budding, has, for example, taken one tree and caused it to produce 20 different kinds of apples, as well as a quantity of Bartlett pears.

Back in 1925 he began notching stocks of various other trees on the trunk of a Baldwin apple. Today the tree produces Baldwins, Greenings, Gravensteins, McIntosh, Golden Sweetings, Denison Reddings, Gilly-Flowers, King's Russets and no less than 11 other popular kinds.

The basic principle of grafting, Glover explains, is to keep fruits of a family together. A pear might do satisfactorily on an apple tree for a few years, while a peach or a plum is not likely to do well. In other words, fruits of seed are of one family and should be kept together, while those with stones are of another family and should not be crossed with a seed species.

Potatoes and tomatoes are of the same family and Glover has gone nature one better by having a single vine produce "spuds" below and the acid fruit above the ground.

WANTS PRESIDENT'S TERM LIMITED TO SIX YEARS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—Senator Burke (D-Neb.) said today that he had written to "150 persons opposed to a third term for a president" asking them to testify on his proposed constitutional amendment for a single six-year presidential term.

The Nebraska senator, who recently announced his support of Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee, said that public hearings would start soon before a senate judiciary subcommittee.

"My proposal could not apply to President Roosevelt at this time," Burke told reporters. "It would merely limit a fourth term for President Roosevelt to six years because it would apply only to presidents elected after this election."

The single six-year term proposal, if approved by congress, would not be effective until ratified by 36 states.

Seriously Wounds Self With Bullet in Head.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 3—A jilted suitor who admitted the fatal shooting of a man he accused of "breaking up my love life" lay in a hospital prison ward today with a bullet wound self-inflicted when trapped by police.

Detective Sergeant David Kerr said James Clough, 43, former cafe proprietor, confessed the slaying of Benjamin D. Baker, 30-year-old unemployed drug salesman, at Baker's home late yesterday.

Miss Jewel Barton, 28, the object of Clough's unrequited affections, escaped injury as the spurned suitor fired twice at her police reported.

Miss Barton, who was visiting at the Baker home, said she was sleeping on a sofa in the living room and Baker was asleep on the floor nearby when Clough entered.

Baker was shot in the back eight times as he started upstairs, police said.

Confronted by police as he started to leave, Clough reentered the house, locked the front door and fired a shot into his right temple, Sergeant John A. Cull reported.

As it is, the disorganization in Europe increases daily. Most dangerous of all, hunger already has seized on many sections of the continent, due to faulty distribution of food and severance of imports. Famine and disease are threatening.

Small wonder, then, that England should experience a rain of peace leaflets.

GOVERNMENT BOLSTERS ALASKAN AIR DEFENSE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—The navy took steps today to improve the Alaskan defenses opposite Russian territory on Kodiak and Unalaska islands.

The action came less than two weeks after a coast guard cutter confirmed reports that a Russian air base was being developed on Soviet-owned Big Diomede island in the Bering strait, a mile from American-owned Little Diomede island.

Awards amounting to $4,609,800 also were made yesterday by the navy for air outposts at San Juan in Puerto Rico, Charlotte Amalie in the Virgin islands, and Midway island in the Pacific. It was not announced when any of the work would be completed.

FIVE KITTENS JOINED AT BIRTH DOING WELL

By The Associated Press

McCLELLANDTOWN, Pa., Aug. 3—Five Siamese kittens born to a cat at the home of a Negro family in Palmer, a nearby coal mining hamlet, were reported "doing all right" today.

Postmaster Michael Heffren of McClellandtown said three of the kittens were black and white and two were all black.

"All five were joined together when born yesterday," he said.

AUTO REGISTRATION FEES ARE INCREASED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 3—Twenty-six inspectors boosted Ohio's automobile registration and licensing revenue by more than $200,000 in the 15 months ended June 1, Cylon W. Wallace, motor vehicles registrar, reported today.

A total of $307,587 was collected during that period, most of it from trucking concerns with false weight registrations or illegally transferred plates, Wallace said. Collection costs amounted to $97,321.

VOTE REGISTRATION RUNNING LIGHT HERE

However, It's Not Regarded as Evidence of Lax Interest.

Registration thus far at the board of elections hasn't been very heavy and there is some indication that it won't be—but this doesn't mean that there isn't much interest in November's presidential election.

So spoke election officials today. They explained that there probably aren't as many unregistered voters now as in past years because of an unusually heavy registration for the May primaries and for an extra registration period early this year for the city special election.

Election officials were asked whether they thought the contest between Roosevelt and Willkie on Nov. 5 would pull as large a vote as Roosevelt and Landon did four years ago—a record for the county. But the officials declined to predict this far in advance.

Since the May primaries 30 persons have registered here and 37 have filed notices of change of residence. These will be accepted until Oct. 7.

SEE POSSIBLE CHECK ON BLOOD PRESSURE

Antiserum Discovered at Illinois School of Medicine.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Ill. — A possible antidote for high blood pressure in animals has been found at the University of Illinois school of medicine.

It is an antiserum, that is, made like an antitoxin, a substance formed in living tissues which neutralizes the poisonous products of germs.

This discovery is a new approach to the mystery of human high blood pressure. The animals were dogs with forms of high pressure closely resembling the widespread and highly fatal human malady.

The findings were reported by Dr. G. E. Wakerlin, professor and head of the department of physiology, and Dr. C. A. Johnson, associate in the department of biological chemistry.

The first tried various substances which include high blood pressure. Garlic and parsley were among these. Others were sex hormones, extracts of liver, kidney, pancreas and mammary glands, pituitrin and adrenal cortical extracts.

But one, renin, a product of the kidney, caused a significant rise in the blood pressure of normal dogs and dogs with high blood pressure.

Renin from a dog was then injected into a rabbit. This injection produced in the rabbit's blood an antiserum, which when given to dogs counteracted the pressure effect of dog renin.

The experiment was then repeted between a dog and a hog. The dog was given hog renin. Thereupon the dog's blood produced an antiserum which was an antidote for renin coming from hog kidney.

These new substances have two immediate practical values. One is to learn the role of renin in the form of high pressure in dogs which apparently is like human high pressure. The other is a medium to cure high blood pressure in the animals.

PLOT

and then submerge and make his getaway.

The "tin fish" failed to submerge during a test last Saturday night, however, the youth told police, and the submarine plan was abandoned in favor of another scheme whereby a motorcycle courier with the $100,000 was to go to a designated spot and receive directions to a further designation before handing over the money.

The arrests, made yesterday morning and last night, came after four letters signed "We" had been delivered to Davie.

The young Ironworker, builder of the submarine, told reporters that the money, inclosed in a strong box, was to have been dropped from the airplane when two white blinker lights were flashed as a signal.

"I was going out about 10 miles into the lake," the young man said. "I planned on taking enough oxygen to last several days if necessary. I was going to attach a waterproof electric cable behind the submarine, with electric lights on two little floating cans. These were to be the signals, which I could flash on and off from the submarine.

"When the plane dropped the money, I was going to pick it up, submerge and travel westward toward the government pier (on the Milwaukee lake front.) While under water I was going to put the money inside an inner tube, which I would then mend with a vulcanizing set. Then, when I got close to the pier, I was going to sink the sub and swim in on the tube."

LAWYER DIES AT 85

Comanche Indian Seen As Creator of Popular Dish

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O.—The Comanche Indian was probably the originator of the well known American dish, stewed prunes.

This and other new aspects of prehistoric Indian diet are reported today by Dr. Gustav G. Carlson, assistant professor of sociology, University of Cincinnati, and Volney H. Jones, University of Michigan, as a result of research on the Comanche reservation near Indiahoma, Okla.

The Comanches seeded and dried a form of plum for storing, later to be boiled and eaten. This was such a delicacy that in winter they sometimes obtained plums by tracking pack rats to their nests and taking the hoarded supply.

A sidelight on Comanche domestic life was use of spines of a prairie cactus to punish unfaithful wives.

The study, in general, contradicts conclusions of earlier investigators that American Indians of the plains tribes depended mostly on game for food. The report lists 39 food or beverage uses of plants and 23 medicinal uses, covering 73 different plants.

To avoid stomach ache from fresh fruit, it was an Indian custom to bark like a wolf before eating. A cross painted on the forehead with red juice of an edible cactus was supposed to prevent digestive upset from this same cactus.

Mesquite pods furnished "sugar."

FATAL MISHAP ENDS MODEL'S WEEK-END VISIT

By The Associated Press

Miss Nash, formerly of Keyser, W. Va., dived nude into a swimming pool on the estate of Neil R. Andrews, wealthy cosmetics manufacturer, and was drowned yesterday. Her body was found some time later by another guest, Miss Vicki Grey of New York.

Her death was listed as "accidental drowning" by Medical Examiner Amos O. Squire.

WIDELY QUOTED MARKER IS STOLEN FROM GRAVE

By United Press

PELHAM, Mass.—One of the nation's most famous gravestones has been stolen from Knight's cemetery and now is the object of an intensive police search.

Though a simple slate marker, the stone is widely known for the epitaph, often seen in books and quoted in lectures on historic New England. It reads:

Warren Gibbs died by poison,
March 23, 1800.
Think my friends when this you see
How my wife hath dealt by me.
She in some oysters did prepare
Some poison for my lot and share.
Then of the same I did partake
And nature yielded to its fate.
Before she my wife became
Mary Felton was her name.
Erected by his brother, William Gibbs.

Tax Reform Head Urges Economy In Local Government As Defense Aid

How Marion, Marion county and the other 4,048 local governmental bodies in Ohio can help to solve the nation's toughest problem—that of defense—was told today by Mrs Melville Mucklestone, president, the National Consumers Tax Commission, Chicago

A sum "sufficient to purchase 358 pursuit planes of the most advanced design plus 1,189 fast, light tanks' would be saved each year if local governments in this state would adopt only two administrative improvements—centralized purchasing and the merit system—according to the head of the commission, which has 44 study groups in Ohio

"Authorities estimate universal adoption of centralized purchasing would save 5 per cent, or $20,820,850 of the $416,417,000 spent annually by local governments in the state" Mrs Mucklestone, who is a former national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, declared "An average saving of 5.6 per cent or $23,319,352 would be realized through personnel selection by merit Pursuit ships cost $65,000 each and light armored tanks, $17,500

"Other economies such as institution of sound budgetary methods, consolidating governmental units, proper planing and abolition of obsolete and unnecessary offices would save additional millions. If local governments throughout the nation would eliminate inefficiency and waste by the adoption of these methods the total sum saved would more than offset the $994,400,000 to be raised annually through the National Defense Tax Act which went into effect July 1

"Every loyal American favors the rearmament of our nation now regardless of cost But while taxpayers are paying this bill, they have a right to expect local governments to make every effort to save where essential services will not be sacrificed

"Citizens everywhere are performing a patriotic service of the highest order when they urge efficient administrative methods on their local officials I am proud that NCTC women are in the vanguard of this economy drive"

NCTC leader in Ohio is Mrs J C Gigger of Ravenna, a member of the national committee

Young Stars in Ohio Film

Olivia de Havilland and Jeffrey Lynn Have Leads In Musical Comedy.

'My Love Came Back," a musical comedy starring Oliva de-Havilland and Jeffrey Lynn will open at the Ohio theater tomorrow for a five-day engagement, closing Thursday

The picture has several beautiful ballroom scenes and glimpses of sedate society as well as highly-entertaining jitterbug routines.

Olivia has the role of a society girl who becomes involved in rumors linking her with Charles Winninger, a prosperous, middle-aged business man Then staid Jeffrey Lynn, in the role of Winninger's assistant, steps into the picture Finally, the story progresses to a point where Olivia must choose between Jeffrey and a young jobless jitterbug enthusiast who hasn't any of Jeffrey's staid qualities but hasn't a job either

There are numerous selections of 'sophisticated swing sprinkled through the film including Liszt's Second Hungarian Rhapsody," Mendelssohn's 'On Wings of Song,' Chopin's 'Nocturne" and Schuberts "Unfinished Symphony"

Critics who have seen the picture praise Olivia's work in particular, pointing out that she "has grown up," giving the most mature and expert performance of her career Unlike her 'Melanie' in "Gone With the Wind,' Olivia demonstrates that she is capable of expressing rage, cunning and graceful poise in quick succession

Starting next Friday for a seven-day run will be "Maryland," a film that has to do with the romance, beauty and traditions of the south, climaxed by a spectacular steeplechase Brenda Joyce John Payne and Walter Brennan have the leading roles

Columbus Doctor Develops Perfect Type Camouflage

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Aug 3—An obstetrician whose hobby is colors and their effect on vision came forward today with a camouflage which he said was virtually perfect

Dr P G Wiltberger a medical examiner for the civil aeronautics authority, said it was so effective that an airplane pilot taking off from a camouflaged aircraft carrier could not return to the base ship

His development, which employs a combination of colors to make objects invisible at 800 feet or more, is being offered to the navy

Dr Wiltberger's announcement was prompted by the statement of Col Fabian L Pratt, commandant of the school of aviation medicine at Randolph Field Tex that a totally different type of camouflage would have to be developed to conceal war objectives from the vision of color-blind men The Wiltberger camouflage is claimed to meet this requirement

Army officials at Fort Sill, Okla, reported the discovery that a color-blind man found camouflaged objects more easily than soldiers with a normal vision

Dr Wiltberger, who served three army enlistments reported to the Aero Medical association of the United States at Dayton, Sept 4, 1938, that "an army or navy observer can easily identify 'camouflaged' objects which are painted with the ordinary zigzag bright colors by merely placing over the eye piece of his telescope a delicate cherry red color filter"

The physician claims also to have developed a filter which, used on a projector, will convert ordinary motion pictures into natural colors

The Chief Outlines His Strategy in Forcing Leslie to Attack Rather Than to Defend

LILLIAN and I looked attentively at my father as he began to outline the things he wished us to do as soon as he should finish his instructions

I need not tell you he began that from now on until after Leslie shall strike his final blow with the consequent defeat which I confidently expect will be his we must not relax our vigilance a single second At that I do not expect his attack to come for another twenty four—perhaps even forty-eight—hours for of course he is counting upon our ignorance of the secret passage which he has discovered and so is taking his own leisurely time for his final onslaught

Father! I said involuntarily —then stopped flushing

His brows contracted into an involuntarily frown at the interruption then cleared again I discovered long ago in the first days after his long search for me ended that he never resented things from me which would arouse quick anger on his part toward almost anyone else

Attack or Defend

Yes my daughter he said encouragingly

Please consider it unsaid I pleaded It was something I should not ask

He smiled at me indulgently

I think I know what is in your mind he said and it is a most natural question You are wondering why I do not gather all my forces and those of the state officials and take Leslie by surprise at his own stronghold before he has a chance to attack us here Wasn't that your question?'

'Yes it was I admitted a bit shamefacedly

'It is a most logical question' he said and you are certainly entitled to my reasons for not following that course especially as I have just given them to your husbands'

He paused for an instant then went on tapping the fingers of one hand against the palm of the other

In the first place" he said "I can keep things in my own hands better here than I can if I call in more of the state police and other officers to surround Leslie's stronghold as I should have to do if I planned an attack upon him there

In the second place success will be far more uncertain if we attack him than if we defend our position He is too wily and experienced a campaigner not to have planned numberless ways of escape from his own place But he patently is planning an offensive based upon his belief that we are ignorant of the secret staircase to the attic up which I am sure he plans to bring all his men We shall be able to trap them all I am confident of it Does that answer your question?'

"Of course I said in hasty confusion and my father's eyes went to Lillian's face were evidently arrested there

What Richard calls your 'poker map' has slipped my dear he said smiling You have a question too I infer'

Women for Defense'

"I wouldn't dream of keeping a secret from you Chief" ' she said with the audacity which is always forgiven her 'Here's a thought which I've evolved from the silence From darkness to daylight don't you think all the 'non-combatants'—children and women not needed for defense—ought to be housed in—say the library and Madge's little study on the first floor from which they could be gotten out of doors quickly in case Leslie's half-crazed brain should think of trying to set fire to the farmhouse or—

Her voice broke off abruptly but I guessed the dread alternative she meant as I am sure did my father

His reply was prompt for it is never his way to delay a decision

Thank you for a valuable—and vital—suggestion he said And it greatly simplifies the instructions I am about to give you Briefly you are to notify every one in the house to lock their doors and keep to their rooms unless it is absolutely necessary to leave them And from dark to daylight as you suggest I want all non combatants downstairs The details of their housing I leave to you Bil—what do you mean by your phrase women not needed for defense

SHOE BOARD IN CLOSET

Builders suggest a slanting board adjusted at the correct angle and attached to the base board of a clothes closet as a convenient place for shoes A narrow wooden strip nailed on the board a few inches from the top forms a heel cleat and prevents the shoes from slipping

Slugging Warren Nine Ousts Marion From State Legion Tournament, 7-

Victors Will Play Springfield Today in Championship Game; Roseberry Gets First Homer of Meet.

Special to The Star

CANTON, O., Aug. 3—Marion was eliminated from the semi-finals of the Ohio American Legion junior baseball tournament Friday by a hard-hitting Warren team, 7-6, as the winners scored all their runs in the third and fourth innings. The game was played at Lakeside stadium. Both teams were hitting the ball hard with Warren having the edge on base knocks 12 to 9. Joe Roseberry, Marion left fielder, poled a homer over the screen in right field, a distance of 260 feet, in the second inning with the bases empty. It was the first home run of the tournament.

Warren pushed four runs across the plate in the third inning on three walks, two singles, a double and a fielder's choice. The winners scored another run off Tom Burrey before he was relieved in the fourth by Chuck Bowers, who granted two runs in that frame on a single and a wild pitch.

Twice In Third

Marion scored two runs in the third inning when Jenkins drew a life on an infield error and stole second. Owen Creasap got on first on an error and Roseberry singled to score Harold Jenkins and advance Creasap to third, where he tallied on Bowers's single. In the fifth inning Creasap smacked a double to the left field wall and Roseberry took first when he was hit by a pitched ball. Bowers doubled to left to score Creasap and Roseberry and Bowers scored on Gene Shellhorn's single. Lehto relieved Marcello in the sixth inning for Warren and he held Marion scoreless in the last three innings. The Marion team could not touch Lehto in those three innings and the game ended, 7-6.

Bowers who hurled nine innings against Mansfield Thursday did not allow a hit after the sixth inning.

Bowers smacked three hits in four trips to the plate while Roseberry slammed a homer and a single in three times at bat. Hoffman Warren center fielder drove in four runs with two hits in three times at bat. Burrey granted six walks and Bowers four with both pitchers each fanning two. Marcello was credited with the victory with Burrey being charged with the loss.

Finals On Today

The victorious Warren team pits its hitting strength against Springfield's superior pitching and fielding today as the two clubs meet for the state championship and the right to represent Ohio in a regional tournament.

Springfield reached the finals yesterday by defeating Middletown 4-1.

Pitcher Bill Ogle of Springfield set Middletown down with three hits and struck out 13 batters while his teammates were collecting six safeties. Middletown's lone tally came in the fifth on a wild pitch.

Manager Tom Hurley of the Marion team, and most of his proteges were reported to have remained in Canton to witness the final game today.

Mexican Girl Swimmer Challenges Everybody

Mexico's champion long distance swimmer, pictured sunning herself at our right Senorita Maria Rivera, has invaded the United States and issued a blanket challenge to the best swimmers of both sexes.

She will race any one any distance between 10 and 30 miles. She turned down a five-mile invitation recently — too short. She may have a new experience in the United States for she has never competed against a woman.

Her latest exploit was to win a 23-mile match race on stormy Lake Chapala against a male star, Angel Perez. Arce couldn't finish and was drowned.

Senorita Rivera says she has phenomenal resistance to cold and fatigue. She is not excessively large or muscular and is highly feminine in manner.

WINS TENNIS TITLES

GAMBIER, O., Aug. 3 — Possibility of a second "grand slam" in the western junior and boys' tennis tournament loomed today as juniors entered final rounds on the Kenyon college courts. Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, Calif., made the tourney's first sweep yesterday when he downed Chadwick Johnson of Philadelphia to take the boys' singles crown and then teamed with Jack Tuero of New Orleans to win the doubles championship over Bob Kring of Los Angeles and John Carrothers of Coronado, Calif.

Shovel Wins Over Omar To Keep Lea

The undefeated Marion Steam Shovel powerhouse continued to set a fast pace for Commercial leaguers by defeating Omar last night. Community Center remained as the league leaders nearest rivals by tripping Phalanx. The third place Eagles downed Marion Star and Co. D repulsed DeMolay in the other circuit contests.

The slugging Shovel makers showed no signs of relinquishing their grip on the No. 1 spot as they overwhelmed the Omar delegation 13-4 at the Shovel grounds. They romped home with nine runs in the fifth inning to clinch the game. Behind the effective eight-hit pitching of Rice the winners showered Omar pitcher, Dickey, with 15 base hits. It was the eleventh win of the season for the Shovelites who are now a game and a half ahead of the second place Community Center crew.

Community Center chalked up win No. 10 at Garfield park by defeating Phalanx 7-3. Bill Everly, ace hurler for the winners, kept his opponents well under control although allowing them eight blows. Phalanx now rests on top of the second division a half game ahead of Co. D.

The Eagles took advantage of five Marion Star errors to win 9-7 at Lincoln park. The last place paper boys showed a new burst of power at the plate as they swatted out 12 hits to the Eagles five. Hubert Goerlich made a futile bid for the losers in the last frame when he clouted a homer with three mates aboard. Trout, catcher for The Star, paced both teams at bat, hitting safely four out of four times. The Eagles are now three games out of first place while The Star is a game and a half behind the seventh place DeMolay team.

Co. D and DeMolay went eight innings before the former finally emerged on top, 4-3, in an all important game to see w would occupy the No. 6 slo triumphant soldiers amasse hits off Bechtle, while the mound artist, Predmore, was ing up 11 bingles. It was a saw battle all the way as Molay grabbed the lead in second inning only to have soldiers come back in the t the fifth with the tying ru looked like the end of the in the sixth when Co. D cha up two more runs but DeM ted it up in the bottom of seventh. A lone run by guardsmen proved to be the ning margin.

KOVACS AND McNEILL IN MEADOW CLUB FINAL

By The Associated Press

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 3 — Under the showers at the Meadow club yesterday, Frank Kovacs cried cheerfully to Don McNeill: "We've certainly come a long way in the past two years, haven't we, Don?"

To this McNeill responded: Uh huh.

There's no contesting the truth of the lanky Oakland, Calif., boy's statement but that watered conversation was a good tip-off to the contrasting mental attitudes of the two players. Two years ago they were a pair of promising young tennis players. Today they meet in the final of the Meadow club invitation tournament one of the major events of the eastern turf court season.
